Amelia Dress Company, Inc. Expands

The Pamplin - Amelia Co. plant started humming Friday morning as seamstresses stitched sportswear under the supervision of Melvin Driskill, plant manager (standing at left) with Mrs. Hazel Abbitt, supervisor and Mrs. Jean Kress, supervisor. The plant was first established in 1929. Owners and managers for many years were Mr. and Mrs. Hal Clark, and following his death, Mrs. Clark. Later, Borgenicht and Bros. of New York purchased the facility with Mrs. Ruby Clark as manager until her retirement in 1968.

Acquires Plant In Pamplin

Amelia Dress Company, Inc. announced late last week that it had acquired the assets of the garment factory in Pamplin and that production would begin immediately. It was also announced that there were no present plans for any change of personnel.

With the addition of the fourth plant to the Amelia Dress Company, the company plans to become a greater supplier to the sportswear field. The sportswear segment has been one of the strongest areas of the children's wear industry over the past months and the company feels it can hurl off production by contracting in this area. The Pamplin division will be geared for this expansion.

Amelia Dress Company, Inc. will now have a total employment of 434 people. Plants are located in Appomattox, Amelia, Farmville and Pamplin. The Appomattox plant will continue to do all the receiving and cutting in addition to a portion of the sewing and finishing. The Pamplin plant like Farmville, will be a sewing operation only. The Amelia plant will continue as a sewing and finishing operation.

With this expansion, Amelia Dress Company, Inc., is now one of the largest independent contractors in the children's dress industry.

Rubella Clinic Sun. Oct 18

Bedford, Appomattox and Campbell counties along with the cities of Bedford and Lynchburg will continue the campaign against rubella (German measles) with a mass immunization program on Sunday, Oct. 18. Clinics will offer free vaccinations to all children, ages one through eleven.

The Rubella Immunization Program is sponsored by the Health Departments of Lynchburg, Appomattox, Bedford and Campbell, with the endorsement of the Medical Academies, in cooperation with Immunization Activities, Virginia State Department of Health and the National Foundation - March of Dimes.

Because of the scarcity of rubella vaccine last year, most localities across the state limited their programs to children in the first three grades. This year, however, there is ample vaccine to immunize all children, ages one through eleven, as recommended by the U. S. Public Health Service.

Clinics are scheduled from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Appomattox Primary School, Pamplin Elementary, and Oakville School.
